FILLED FULL OF BIRD SHOT

One Negro Wounds Another
With A Shot Gun On Seventh Street.

In a shooting affray Monday night Sam Skinner, col., shot and seriously injured Upshaw O'Brien another negro. The affair happened on E. 7th street, near Virginia street. It seems that there had been a little difficulty between the two that afternoon, and that O'Brien had tapped Skinner with a plank. Skinner said that he would get him, to which, so Skinner claims, O'Brien replied with a few cusswords. Skinner then went home and got a shot-gun and came back and lay in wait for O'Brien. When the latter started into the alley back of Hanahan's saloon, on 7th street, between Main and Virginia, Skinner fired upon him. The load of No. 6 shot sprinkled over his body from his breast to his knees especially in the groins and thighs. Sergeant Jones and Officer Barnett arrested Skinner. The examining trial is set for to day. O'Brien is in a critical condition. Dr. Harned is in attendance.

Both the negroes are 'bad men.' Skinner has been in the workhouse several times, and is a rounder in general. O'Brien has been to the penitentiary as a housebreaker.

GARAGE AND STORAGE ROOM

To Be Erected At Once In The Hopson Property.

FRONTING TWO STREETS.

Brick Building 50x168 Feet On 11th and 12th Street.

Messrs. R. E. Cooper and Odie Davis will build at once two business houses on the Hopson property, through the center of the lot fronting on Eleventh and Twelfth street.

It will be a brick building one story in height and fronting 50 feet on both streets and 168 feet deep.

The northern half of the building, fronting on Eleventh street, will be filled up for a modern storage house for household goods and similar kinds of property. It will be divided into compartments each with its own locks and keys, which will be rented to those desiring to store goods. The half of the building fronting on Twelfth, in the rear of the Model Laundry, has been leased to Chas. J. Gee for a garage for a term of years.

The contract has been let for the foundation and work has already begun. The building will be pushed to completion this fall. Hopkinsville is having a genuine building boom and nearly every house built is rented before it is started.

VALUABLE WATCHES STOLEN

Thief Enters House of Mrs. J. I. Landes on North Main.

Mrs. J. I. Landes' residence on N. Main was entered Tuesday afternoon, and two gold watches stolen. The thief gained admittance by breaking through a screen window on the South side. He took a fine ladies' watch, and a gentleman's gold watch. There is no clue. Officers are at work on the case.

WILL MOVE INTO BOTTOM.

C. R. Clark & Co. Have Leased the Building of the Moayon Co.

TO TAKE EFFECT JANUARY 1.

Moayon Co. Will Handle Shoes Exclusively in Smaller Store.

An important business deal involving two leading Main street merchants was entered into this week, to take effect January 1st.

C. R. Clark & Co., grocers on the corner of Main and Eighth, have rented the big Moayon dry goods store building at 206 and 208 South Main and will move their immense grocery business into it by the first of the year.

The Moayon Co. in turn, will go out of business except as to the shoe department, which will be moved into the small storeroom adjoining now occupied by Miss Fannie Rogers, the milliner, which building is also owned by Mr. M. L. Elb, of the Moayon Company.

The grocery stock of Clark & Co. will be largely increased and the store will be made one of the most complete houses of the kind in this end of the state.

Claude R. Clark, who began business 22 years ago, as the "Boy Grocer" has been very successful in business and now has a very large and constantly increasing trade, that can no longer be handled in the stand he has occupied for several years.

The building he will vacate was recently bought by Mr. John B. Trice, who will, it is understood, replace the old Hooser building with a modern business house.

SHOOTING CHARGES

Against Three Men Growing out of a Fight Near Fairview.

In a quarrel Monday, George Lancaster shot and slightly injured Will Hancock, a neighbor, both young farmers of the Fairview neighborhood. Hancock in company with his brother, Harry Hancock, was returning with some hogs which had gotten by chance into Lancaster's cornfield, when Lancaster saw them, and a quarrel fight ensued. Lancaster shot Will Hancock with a load of birdshot, the shot taking effect in the arms and side. The wound is not of a serious nature. It is claimed that the Hancock brothers drew pistols and fired. Lancaster has issued warrants against them, charging them with shooting into his house.

ONE TRICK FATHER MISSED

Col. Fred Hale's Little Slam at His Father, the Former Senator From Maine.

Col. Fred Hale of Portland, Me., son of former Senator Eugene Hale of that state, came to Washington and called on his old friend, H. C. Emery, of the tariff board, also from Maine.

Emery's office is in the treasury building and Emery showed Hale, not without pride, the long row of granite monoliths on the Fifteenth street side of that building, explaining that there were 36 in the lot, recently put up to replace the old limestone columns, and that they cost $10,000 each.

"Ten thousand dollars each?" repeated Hale.

"Yes."

"And they came from the Maine quarries, I suppose?"

"No," replied Emery; "they came from the New Hampshire quarries."

"From New Hampshire?"

"Yes."

"You don't mean it!" said Hale.

"Where the deuce was father?"

BUT BOOKS LIVE ON.

Many a man lives a burden to the earth; but a good book is the precious life blood of a master spirit, embalmed and treasured up on purpose to a life beyond life. It is true no age can restore a life whereof, perhaps, there is no great loss, and revolutions of ages do not off recover the loss of a rejected truth, for the want of which whole nations fare the worse. We should be wary, therefore, what persecution we raise against the living labors of public men, how we spill that seasoned life of man, preserved and stored up in books, since we see a kind of homicide may be thus committed, sometimes a martyrdom, and, if it extend to the whole impression, a kind of massacre, whereof the execution ends not in the slaying of an elemental life, but strikes at the ethereal and fifth essence, the breath of reason itself slays an immortality rather than a life.—Milton, Areopagitica.

OUR BABEL OF TONGUES.

The old and the young sometimes have difficulty in understanding each other's language. Geraldine, playing with her little companions on the sidewalk, succeeded in fooling one of them rather neatly. Pleased with the infant crime, she dashed in to tell her grandmother: "Margaret got stung, gramma." "What stung her, dear, a bee?" asked gramma, mildly. Geraldine stared at her in blank surprise. "What's a bee?" she asked, deeply perplexed. "Well, what do you mean by 'stung'?" inquired gramma, in equal dismay, and at last accounts neither had been able to make the other comprehend what was meant.

FOOD OF RUSSIAN HORSES.

Only constitute three-fourths of the food upon which the Russian horse must exist during the twelve months of the year. Russian oats, however, are far superior in sustaining power to the American cereal. It is also claimed that animals do not become so tired of this steady diet as they do of the hay and corn products in the United States. This statement is made by an American with years' experience in horse breeding and training in Russia.

WHY BROWN IS SUCCEEDING

Meeting Helress Who Spends $1,000 a Year on Hats, He Marries Her Milliner.

Dr. Bertha C. Downey, at a luncheon in Worcester, Mass., eloquently pleaded for her tax on childless husbands.

"There would be fewer childless husbands if there were fewer extravagant wives. Take the case of hats alone. It is nothing for a woman to decorate her hat with aigrettes and paradise plumes worth $80 or $90. Few men can afford aigrettes, paradise plumes and children at the same time.

"Why," said Dr. Downey, "I heard a story the other day about a man who said:

"Brown seems to be succeeding now. What is the secret of it?"

"Well," was the reply, "he met Goldie's daughter, an heiress who spends $1,000 a year on hats and—"

"And of course he married her,"

"No, not He married her milliner."

REMBRANDT'S HOUSE.

The inauguration by Queen Wilhelmina of the museum and picture gallery installed in the house occupied by Rembrandt at Amsterdam from 1639 to 1658, in the Jodenbreestraat, marks an interesting event in art commemoration. Rembrandt purchased the residence for 13,000 florins, and it was here that, in company with his wife, he passed the happiest and at the same time the most fertile years of his life. The house was sold in 1658 for 11,000 florins and was subsequently divided into two; until in 1906 a special commission, of which the famous Dutch artist, Joseph Israels, was the moving spirit, purchased the place and had it restored and transformed into a museum adorned with a large number of Rembrandt's pictures.

NO ROMANCE HERE.

He stood amid the blaze and splendor of his magnificent mansion and in his hand he held the portrait of a beautiful woman. His face was pale and haggard and his lips moved convulsively. What was this mystery? Was this the picture of his departed wife? No. Was it the portrait of his dead but dearly remembered daughter? No. What, then, was the cause of his haggard face? Well might we ask. Was it not the same portrait that two minutes ago had fallen from its nail and raised a lump as big as a hen's egg on his head? It was.

Charley West, a young man from out of town, was the loser of an exciting relay race Tuesday morning. He was wanted by the Sheriff on a charge of breach of peace. Took Double Dose of Electricity To Stop Locks Struggles Eddyville, Ky., Aug. 22.—With the fury of a maddened bull early today Oliver Lock, negro wife murderer, struggled for twenty-eight minutes with 2,500 volts of electricity surging through his body, until with herculean strength he burst the leather clamps which bound his arms and legs to the death chair.

He apparently succumbed just as he had burst his bonds and the current was turned off but an investigation by Dr. Moss, the prison physician, and Dr. Travis found him reviving, and a second current of 2,500 volts was turned on. Even then life was not extinct for several minutes.

MELON FREAKS.

Out of The Ordinary In The Watermelon Line.

Mr. Will D. Radford brought to the Kentuckian office this week a genuine freak in the watermelon line. It consists of two melons of good size growing from a forked stem. The melons are fully developed and present a most unusual condition in the vegetable kingdom.

Crescent Shaped One.

Mr. Willie Gray, another prominent young farmer, also has a melon at the Kentuckian office that is crescent shaped and from one end to the other measures 2 feet 10½ inches long. It is of uniform size—about 8 inches in diameter—the whole length. Mr. Gray last year brought to this office a sweep potato a yard long coiled up like a snake.

QUEER PRESENT FOR A QUEEN.

In all probability the king of Dahomey's present of pipes and lin-cloth never reached Buckingham palace. On one occasion, however, Queen Victoria had publicly to accept a gift of quite as embarrassing a nature. This was in 1856, when the king of Siam sent a mission to that country. On being presented to the queen, who received them seated on her throne and wearing her crown, the envoys crawled from the doors to her majesty's foot on their hands and knees, and then each drew a present from the folds of his robes. The first object placed in the queen's hands was a silver spittoon.

HE WROTE THE GREAT PLAY

Friends Praised It, Famous Manager Took It to Read—and Then He Woke Up.

"My friends had always insisted that I could write a great play," said Jordan, "if I would only set my hand to the task. Well, to be frank, I had long cherished the idea myself that I possessed the ability to do something worth while in the way of providing material for the stage. Like so many of my fellow laborers in the journalistic field, however, I found it exceedingly difficult to secure the time which was necessary for the production of a drama. The best I could do was to steal an hour now and then to devote to the great work. This I did faithfully and zealously, and, after two years of study and earnest endeavor my play began to near completion.

"My friends were enthusiastic. I had been fortunate enough to hit upon an entirely new plot, and, if I may say so, I had handled it admirably. Each of the four acts was filled with thrilling situations; the comedy was subtle and insinuating; the pathos was genuine and the interest was splendidly sustained. Having administered the finishing touches, I took my play to a great producing manager. He had an office in a large building on Broadway.

"With my play done up in a neat package I entered the anteroom, where a young man greeted me respectfully and admitted that the great manager was not out of the city. In fact, the young man consented to take my card into his employer. I had waited only a minute or two when the young man returned and graciously conducted me to the manager, who cordially shook hands with me and said that he would be glad to personally read my play and consider it strictly on its merits."

"Yes. What then?"

"Well, just at that moment something fell somewhere, making a loud, clattering noise, so I crawled out of bed and put on my clothes."—Chicago Record-Herald.

LIVE UNDER THE SAME ROOF

Then, and Not Until Then, Will You Become Really Acquainted With Your Friends.

Two households may stand side by side on the same street, two families live within hailing distance of one another for years in the same community, and yet have opposite tastes, sentiments and convictions. The children of each growing up together may marry and, until they reach the period of new adjustment, never suspect how antagonistic has been their early training. This is one reason why the first year of marriage is so beset with briars and thorns. Everybody knows that until people actually dwell under the same roof they do not mutually become acquainted. A single week spent with a friend at a house party does more to promote intimacy or indifference than years of superficial social intercourse.

The touch-and-go meetings incidental to teas and receptions are the merest suggestions of personality, but when one sits day after day beside the fire or at the table with a neighbor, each ceasing to be on guard, real understanding begins. Even correspondence, which to a degree is in the nature of revelation, does not make people so well acquainted and is by no means so true a test of disposition and temperament as the test of living together. During courtship and betrothal an engaged pair are on probation. Without effort each displays qualities of charm that cannot last to be attractive. The most ordinary speech has a flavor of compliment. The future husband and wife are walking through a land of dreams. Shall the dreams come true? They surely will if on both sides there are fixed principles of honor, justice and fidelity.—Mrs. Sangster in Woman's Home Companion.

THESE ARE YOUR ANCESTORS

When One Considers Their Vast Number
Pride of Descent Seems Very Foolish.

Are you proud of your ancestors? Of how many of them?

Since the beginning of the Christian era—a mere 1911 years—you have had 139,335,017,489,534,976 ancestors. Imagine, if you can, how many persons were needed since the beginning of the world to bring you forth—you, who are reading this now. It works the other way, too. If a single couple had started 5,000 years ago to populate the world, and everybody had grown to maturity and married at the age of 21, the earth's population would be 2,199,915, followed by 144 ciphers. However, this world would not hold them all; it would not be large enough to give all these people breathing space the size of the world would have to be multiplied by 3,166,526, followed by 125 ciphers. That is the only way in which these enormous numbers can be expressed.

How futile, then, is ancestor worship! Every one of us, high or low, has had in his ancestry kings and peasants, criminals and saints; it is almost impossible to name any one of one's own race to whom one cannot prove in some way a remote relationship.

NOT UP TO EXPECTATIONS

Mankind and the World Frequently Disappointing to Hopeful Youth, Says Theodore Parker.

Suppose many of us are a little disappointed with mankind. The world of the girl's dream is not the world of the young woman's actual sight and touch, and still less is it so of the woman no longer young. In the moonlight of dreamy youth, as we look out of the windows and rejoice in the blooming apple trees, how different does the world seem from what we find it the next day, when in the heat of a May sun, we go about and remove the caterpillars from the scrubby trees. A boy bred in a wealthy family in a little village, secluded from the eyes of men, filling his consciousness with nature and the reflection of human life which deep poems and this great magnificent Bible and other religious books mirror down into his own soul, goes out into the world, and finds things very different from what they appeared when seen through the windows of the home which his father's and mother's affection colored with the rose and violet of their own nature.—Theodore Parker.

TO TAKE PLANT IMPRESSIONS

Two Methods That Result in Pictures
Which Closely Resemble Good Steel Engravings.

Here is a way to take impressions of plants which will resemble steel engravings. Two of them, in fact; take your choice.

The first method is to take half a sheet of fine woven paper and cover its surface with sweet oil; let it stand a moment or two, rub off the superfluous oil and hang it in the air. When it is fairly dry, move it slowly over the flame of a candle, lamp or gas burner (caution) until it is quite black, lay the plant or leaf on it, place a clean piece of paper on top and rub equally with the fingers for about half a minute; then take up the plant and place it on the paper on which it is desired to leave an impression. Cover it with a piece of blotting paper and rub as before. The engraving-like impression will then appear.

By the second method, burn a common cork until it is reduced to a powder, add a teaspoonful of olive oil and mix into a thick paste. Next paint the under side of the leaf with a camel's hair brush, lay the leaf carefully, painted side down, upon a piece of clean paper, press it in a book under a strong and even weight for about a quarter of an hour and remove the leaf carefully from the paper. As before, the impression will appear thereon.

SHARP REPORTEE OF GILBERT

Famous Librettist Always Would Get the Better of the Actors at Rehearsals.

Gilbert's facile repartees came in useful at rehearsals. One afternoon a well-known actor had been made to repeat one scene over and over again. When he was told for the forty-seventh time that it was all wrong he stepped down to the footlights and said: "Mr. Gilbert, I must tell you that I'm not a very good tempered man." "No," said Gilbert, "neither am I." "Furthermore," the actor went on, "I'd like to have you know, Mr. Gilbert, that I'm a very strong man." "Well," said Gilbert, "I'm six feet four in my socks, but if you really want to know the difference between us—I am an extremely clever man."

There was another actor who objected to being continually corrected and snapped out: "Look here, Mr. Gilbert; I know my lines." "I know you do," answered Gilbert, "but the trouble is, dear boy, that you don't know mine."

ARTIST WHO HAD NO ARMS

Miss Sarah Biffen, de Montholon and Hiles Held Brushes in Their Teeth or Toes.

Miss Sarah Biffen was a conspicuous example of the skill which armless people sometimes acquire in spite of their affliction. She was miniature painter to Queen Victoria and her work was widely known for its beauty and delicacy.

She was born without arms, but as a girl, having a great wish to become an artist, she worked earnestly for years until she could paint by holding the brush in her teeth. In 1821, according to the Raja Yoga Messenger, the judges, without any knowledge of the means she was compelled to use, awarded her the gold medal of the Society of Arts, a prize sought by hundreds of others.

M. de Montholon and Bertram Hiles other artists who were deprived of the use of their arms. The former had only one foot, which he used to paint with.

Mr. Hiles lost both his arms in an accident, being run over by a street car when he was only 8 years old and when he was just beginning to acquire skill in drawing. He spent two years in patient toil learning to draw by holding the pencil in his teeth, at the end of which time he won a first-class certificate from a local art school.

WHEN THE EYESIGHT FAILS

Then Things Look Good to One That Everyone Else is Criticizing Harshly.

"Everything has its compensations," declared the man whose hair is graying over his ears and who can't read fine print as easily as he could ten years ago. "Yes, sir! Things look good to me that I hear other people criticizing like the mischief. Every girl has a flawless companion; everybody's hair looks as if it grew there and didn't have to be pinned on; all my friends are handsome; the streets seem clean and my clothes look new."

"Then, when I put on my spectacles—! But I've learned not to, except when I want to read. When my straw hat gets too spotty my good wife punches me up and says it's time to buy a new one, and when she needs a frock she just quietly hauls my specs out of my pocket, hands them to me pointedly, and stands before me in a good light. Rose-colored spectacles are all right, she tells me, when I'm looking at her face, but she prefers me to inspect her last summer's gown with my strongest, clearest lenses."

CLOSE CALL FROM DEATH

Boston Boy Has Hair-raising Experience at Night in Manila Bay.

Letters received by E. S. Perkins of Savin Hill from his twenty-one year-old son Lester, brother of the kite expert and aeronaut, Samuel F. Perkins, tell of an experience which he calls more "hair-raising" than kite flying. Young Perkins visited one of the fortified islands in Manila bay last month on a 60-foot tug.

On the return trip a storm came up and the boat was wrecked on a fish trap. Perkins managed to get hold of a life preserver and drifted about all night, being at one time within a mile of shore, but prevented from landing by a shift of wind. He clung some time to a fish trap, fought off a Chinaman and a Filipino woman, who sought his life preserver, and was finally picked up in the morning completely exhausted after having been 14 hours in the water. After ten days in the hospital he wrote to his father that it was a "grand experience."

Young Perkins had done considerable kite flying with his brother and had developed a strong physique, which undoubtedly enabled him to come through the ordeal. He went out to Manila last September and is employed in the custom house there.—Boston Transcript.

END OF VACATION ARGUMENT

Wife Agrees to Separate Outing Plan, but Hubby Drops the Subject.

In the garden, over the Sunday paper and a pitcher of iced tea, they were holding a vacation argument.

"Yes," he said, "Doc Sawyer tells me a separate vacation is the best thing for married folks."

"Humph."

"Well, look at the matter calmly. Here we are, married nearly twenty years, and always together. Think what a change it would be for both of us to get away alone—to see nothing but new scenes, nothing but new faces."

"Humph."

"A change, a thorough change, that is what we require, Doc Sawyer says."

"William, look here. I consent. I consent providing you make this change really thorough by letting me go off on my vacation by myself, and you take with you on yours the six children that I haven't had out of my sight for ten years."

But this time it was William who said:

"Humph."

NOT EXACT INTERPRETATION.

"That is a misinterpretation," said Senator Taliaferro of a certain bill. "That misinterprets the people's wishes as badly as the Jacksonville crier misinterpreted Shakespeare. In a Jacksonville court the other day a lawyer quoted Shakespeare—'Who steals my purse steals trash'—to a deaf judge. 'What's that?' the judge demanded. 'Who steals my purse steals trash,' the lawyer repeated. 'Twas something, nothing; 'twas mine, 'tis his, and has been slave—' 'Louder! I can't hear you!' said the judge irritably. 'Who steals my purse,' repeated the unfortunate lawyer, 'steals trash. 'Twas—' 'Can't you speak up?' growled the deaf judge. At this point the crier thought it time to interfere. He bent over the judge and shouted in his ear: 'He just says, sir, that anybody what steals his pocketbook won't get nothing.'

HISTORIC OLIVE TREE.

It is not everywhere that one can find an olive tree under the branches of which Plato conversed with Socrates about the soul. But in Greece there still lives such a tree. One is even tempted to add that St. Paul himself stopped and rested against its trunk when on his way to the city to announce the word of God to the Epicureans and Stoics. By the roadside of the "Sacred Way" which unites Athens with Eleusis, one comes upon the olive tree chosen by Plato as the site of his academy, and which has flourished more than twenty-three centuries. Here every day comes a Greek, Mons. Evangelos Vamvacas, who ruined himself financially for an idea. This man sold his cafe that he might be able to send a few branches of Plato's olive tree as peace offerings to all the sovereigns of the world.

BLACKSTONE AND GOLDSMITH

In deciding to place a tablet on the house in Lincoln's Inn Fields where Sir William Blackstone lived, the London county council have probably been guided by the fact that the most famous residence of the judge and commentator already carries a distinguishing sign. This is in the Temple, but the tablet is to Goldsmith's memory. Here Oliver gave dinners to his staid friends and supper parties to young folks of both sexes. It was the supper parties which disturbed Blackstone, whose chambers were immediately below, and on many an evening his studies on the "Commentaries" were broken by the racket made by his "reveling neighbor."

STATUE TO A DOG.

At the entrance to Grayfriars churchyard, Edinburgh, is a statue and drinking fountain combined (at which dogs may drink), erected to the memory of Greyfriars Bobbie, a Scotch terrier. Bobbie's master died and was buried at Greyfriars churchyard, and the dog persisted in following his late master and could not be persuaded to leave the graveyard, ultimately being found dead near the grave.

MANY KINDS OF KNIVES.

An extraordinary thing about the cutlery trade is the variety of knives made. At the Suffolk works in Sheffield, for instance, they have 10,000 different patterns on the books. They make sometimes 8,000 patterns to order at one time. The same thing is true of the large cutlery works at Solingen, Germany. One firm has 9,000 patterns for Germany alone. New ones are constantly coming out. The Suffolk works have averaged ten new patterns a week for two years.

VAST PRODUCTION OF GOLD

Last Year's Addition to Stock of the Precious Metal Surpassed
All Records.

The world's production of gold has a definite and well-understood influence on prices. Consequently there is not a little comfort in the cheerful information that last year's additions to the stock of the precious metal surpassed any previous record. Some of the figures are surprising. Mexico, until recently on a silver basis, furnished $24,000,000 in gold to the general supply. Siberia, that mysterious land of such vast mineral resources, yielded a large proportion of the new Russian gold, which had a total value of $33,000,000.

Australia and New Zealand are so far from having exhausted their gold fields that the antipodean mines were third on the list with $67,000,- 000. Second place was taken by the United States with about $96,000,- 000 of new gold; but this was little more than one-half the African production, totaling close to $177,000,- 000. The dark continent, where tradition and a large body of archeological opinion assigns the land of Ophir and King Solomon's mines, gave up virtually 40 per cent. of the total output.

Of this treasure the mines of the Transvaal yielded about $160,000,- 000, Rhodesia almost $13,000,000, and West Africa less than $4,000,- 000. From all sources there was an aggregate gold production for the year of $466,000,000.

INTROSPECTION.

Introspection, viewed in the large, is a valuable thing, but much of its virtue lies in its discreet use. Let it become a fixed habit, and heaven help its victim! Our internal analyses ought to be carried only so far as to convince us that our ethical judgments and our self-esteem are not all solid, but partly gaseous.
When they proceed to the separation of these constituents, have a care; for as soon as the fluid elements are forced out the residuum will weigh down our spirits in proportion to its loss of heaven. That is what is the matter with us when our complaint is popularly diagnosed as New England conscience.—Francis E. Leupp, in the Atlantic.

OYAMA OBJECTED TO "BRICK"

Japanese Field Marshal Did Not Want Americans to Regard Him as Baked Mud.

Franklin Matthews, the entertainer, is an old newspaper man and in the line of journalistic duty has covered much ground and picked up many odd expressions, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

He represented the New York Sun during the Russo-Japanese war, and one day succeeded in breaking through that remarkable hedge of news censorship and reaching Field Marshal Oyama. The interview was brief, but extremely courteous, and the jubilant correspondent hurried back to prepare the story for his paper. In the course of it he used this expression: "Marshal Oyama is a brick!"

The letter was duly passed along to the official translator and presently Captain Kanaka of the marshal's personal staff called upon the correspondent.

"Marshal Oyama presents his compliments," said the captain suavely, "and regrets to inform the esteemed correspondent that his honorable letter cannot be forwarded as written."

"Why, what's wrong with it?" cried the amazed war scribe.

Captain Kanaka explained with polite gravity:

"Marshal Oyama," he said, "objects to having the great American public regard him as baked mud."

ADVICE FOR THE YOUNG GIRL

She Should Try to Imitate Some Older Woman of Marked Grace and Charm.

Good manners are not hard to cultivate, but it is difficult for the young girl to realize their importance. Yet if she will only stop to think she will remember some older woman who, in her eyes, holds everything of grace and charm.

Then why does she not try to imitate her? Why does she not study this woman's personality and find out her charm?

The young girl should be considerate of all things. In being that she will find nearly everything else will be comparatively easy.

She will not talk in loud, breezy tones, because she will know that in doing so she is disturbing others.

She will not hurry through the streets in a bold and pushing manner, nor stand on the pavements with a group of giggling girls, because she knows she is making of herself a nuisance.

Nor will she enter shops and engage in high pitched conversation plentifully sprinkled with slang and incommensurate other customers by blocking the counters.

Once a girl accepts consideration as a foundation she will soon find herself possessed of a charming personality.

SAGACIOUS DOG.

The Montmartre quarter of Paris possesses a dog who has earned for himself the name of the telephone dog. Artists abound and telephones are scarce, so necessity has full scope to exercise her powers of invention. A living telephone has been found in one household in the form of a dog named "Jap," belonging to M. Delaw, an artist. The dog is generally to be seen promenading in the vicinity of the artist's house. If a friend rings and gets no answer, or if the household is being kept waiting for dinner, the dog is called and a note slipped into his collar. The dog sets out, his nose to the wind, and makes a tour of the cafes of Montmartre until he finds his master, and then he brings him back in triumph.

GROWTH OF JOHANNESBURG.

When the census returns are complete it will be shown that Johannesburg has a population within its municipal area of close upon 240,000, including whites, natives and colored. Roughly it has been ascertained that there are 121,600 Europeans. The natives total 108,140, of whom only 5,320 are females. The colored community includes Asiatics, Chinese, etc., and totals 12,141. The municipal census for 1908 gave the Europeans as 95,126, as against 121,600 today.

LATEST WRINKLE IN HOBBLES

Flossie Silken Describes a "Nightie" Made in the Prevailing Style and Most Enchanting.

Miss Flossie Silken rushed home after a shopping trip and broke into the midst of her loving family with an excited exclamation.

"What do you suppose is the latest wrinkle in hobble effects? I'm sure you'll never guess. Well—ere the boys all gone out—sure—well, it's hobble nighties. I saw the dearest little nightie gown this morning, fine nainsook, with a pink ribbon run around the low neck and another wider ribbon of the same shade drawn around the ankle, with a big bow at the left side. It was perfectly enchanting. No, I don't suppose a woman could very well chase a burglar if she had on a hobble nightie, but I never did believe those stories, anyway, about women being so valiant when burglars are around. Anyhow, if you've spent all your money for a hobble nightgown there'll not be anything for the burglar to get and you can just tell him so. If he wants to spend his time searching he can do so and he will only learn that you have spoken the truth."

MATTER OF SHAPE

Hoax—I hear that the corset trust is in a bad way.

Joax—Yes, but it'll get things in good shape after a while.

NO CASTE IN SNORES.

The cause and cure of snoring concerns all classes, says the London Chronicle. We have record that both the house of lords and the workhouse have suffered from it. There was a former duke of Norfolk who fell into the habit of sleeping audibly in the lords, and it happened that he was hard at it on one occasion when a bill concerning the parish of Great Snoring, in Norfolk, came before the house. The roar of laughter with which the bill's title was greeted awakened the duke and relieved his fellow peers. At the other end of the social scale we have the poor law commission minority's commendation of the ingenious workhouse master, who divided the old men at night so that the snorers and the deaf men slept in one ward and the rest in another.

WHO GOVERNS ENGLAND?

Who governs England? Colonial opinion dominates in politics, American millionaires are all powerful in the country, American women lead "society." American journalists guide the public, French dressmakers set the fashions, foreign painters and musicians direct our taste, American prices rule the financial market, French chefs dictate what we shall eat, and American collectors fix the value of our art treasures. It appears that between them they have very effectually taken John Bull by the horns.—London Truth.

DOGS CARRY THE DRUMS.

The men who play the big drums in the Serbian army do not have to carry their drums. Instead of being slung in front of the man who plays it, the instrument is put on a small two-wheel cart drawn by a large dog. Of course, the drummer must play as he marches; but the dog is so well trained that there is no difficulty in doing this. The animal keeps its place even through the longest marches, and the drummer walks behind the cart, performing on his instrument as he goes along.

Henderson To-day.

Henderson began the series of three games transferred yesterday, on local grounds. The other games will be played to-day and Friday. The Moguls leave home Saturday for 10 days, returning Sept 5 to play Jackson.

Tuesday's Results.

Henderson 4; Fulton 0.
Paducah 3; Hopkinsville 2.
Vincennes 6; Clarksville 2.
Jackson 5; Cairo 1.

Monday's Results.

Paducah 2; Hopkinsville 1.
Vincennes 7-4; Clarksville 5-2.
Henderson 5; Fulton 0.
Jackson 3; Cairo 1.

Sunday's Results.

Paducah 6; Hopkinsville 4.
Vincennes 7; Jackson 0.
Henderson 2; Fulton 1.

The Paducah Indians took the first game from the Moguls Sunday, at Dawson, with the ever reliable Beasley in the box. This was bad enough but set down to our usual Sunday luck.

Monday on the home grounds, they made it two in one of the best games of the season. It was a pitcher's battle between Nichols, the 100-star slab artist, and Yon, the first half's sensation.

Nichols allowed just half as many hits as did Yon but the little slab kept his more scattered. Only half of Hopkinsville's hits were piled out in the eighth inning when they made their only run.

In the eighth Paducah scored one on Fogg's two-bagger and Carroll's single. Burgess got around on singles by Carroll and Hudson in the ninth.

Hopkinsville registered her tally in the eighth on Lyon's two base hit and Johnson's single. Jones, Nairn's left gardener, saved two runs by making a circus catch against the fence.

The score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—R. H. E.
Paducah 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1—2 8 2
Hopkinsville 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—1 4 1
Batteries—Nichols and DeRose; Yon and Smith.

Tuesday Paducah took another close game by a ninth inning rally, aided by a costly wild throw. With the score 2 to 1 in favor of Hopkinsville the visitors pounded out two runs in the ninth and won by the score of 3 to 2. Fogg scored in the ninth on Poland's sacrifice and Pickering scored Crain with a double. A fast double play ended Hopkinsville's chance to score in the final inning. Score:

R. H. E.
Paducah..... 3 6 1
Hopkinsville..... 2 11 3
Batteries—Crain and DeRose; Johnson and Smith.

Flies And Bunts.

The lost games Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday, but unfortunately we failed to profit by it. The game went on ourselves. Paducah News Democrat.

and Yon, Hopkinsville. Catcher—Waller, Henderson. First Baseman—Cox, Paducah, or Stelle, Henderson. Second Baseman—Burgess, Paducah. Third Baseman—Hargrove, Vincennes, or Hudson, Paducah. Shortstop—Ireland, Hopkinsville. Outfielders—Pickering, Paducah; Everett, Vincennes; Gfroerer, Henderson.

Pretty tough luck to be beaten three straights on home grounds by the tail enders.

Paducah has won six straight games since its reorganization. This surely ought to be satisfactory to the fans who saved their bacon.

Umpire Conklin has imposed fines aggregating $55 recently, which leads the Cairo Bulletin to say: If Umpire Conklin was fined every time he made what is regarded as a bad decision he would be owing the league money for his work.

President Gosnell of the league has announced that he has fined Doubles and Charles Gosnell, of the Clarksville team, $25 for their attack on Umpire Webber during the early part of last week. He gave the men five days to pay it or get out.

Paducah had a near fire at the grand stand last week, very similar to ours. The moral of this is that cigar stumps and sawdust should be very closely watched by the custodian.

Rain spoiled the opening at Jackson Friday. The town was preparing for a half holiday and a general jubilation over the first Kitty ball game.

Wright is said to be Henderson's best pitcher, having won 4 and lost 2 games.

The Chinese Battery is still doing business at the old stand.

Red Gust is making good with the St. Louis Browns.

Ollie Pickering for many years a star with Cleveland, has been signed to manage the Paducah team, and has already taken charge. Pickering played for a time with Vincennes, but broke his leg in sliding to a base. He is still unable to play and will manage from the bench.

Henderson took three straights from Cairo.

Paducah not only took the Clarksville series but had the audacity to beat the Moguls three straights.

The two newest teams have elected to call themselves Henderson "Chickens" and Jackson "Climbers". The Henderson fans pulled off a great stunt when Zeke Taylor failed to hit Hancock, after boasting what he would do to him. Zeke was formally presented with a paddle 8 inches wide and 4 feet long.

Jackson did herself proud at the first Kitty game. After being postponed one day on account of rain, the opening game was witnessed by 2000 people.

The Vincennes Sun's all Kitty team is as follows:

Pitchers—Yon, of Hopkinsville. Beasley of Hopkinsville. Coleman, of Fulton. Wright, of Paducah. First Base—Gust, Jackson. Second Base—DeHaven, Vincennes.

Third Base—Hargrove, Vincennes. Short Stop—Ireland, Hopkinsville. Left Field—Everett, Vincennes. Center Field—Green, Vincennes. Right Field—Heckert, Fulton. Utility—Lyons, Hopkinsville.

Henderson is greatly pleased with second baseman Rousch.

The Henderson "Chickens" will be served in three different styles—Wednesday broiled, Thursday stewed and Friday fried. Come on cockerles and take your choice.

The Vincennes papers keep boosting Glenn as the premier backstop of the Kitty. Let them rave, we have our opinion. They compare him with Huhn as shown by their playing at Vincennes. We do not think it unfair to do the same thing.

In the recent series, in the two games in which the two participated, Huhn got 19 put outs, 2 assists, 3 hits, 3 runs, and had three bases stolen off him. Glenn had to his credit 13 put outs, 2 assists, 1 hit, 0 runs and five stolen bases against him. This is not considering the last game, in which Huhn was hurt in the first inning. Both are hitting above the 300 mark. In the first series Huhn got 391 put outs in 55 games, an average of 6.1 men per game. Glenn had 177 put outs in 36 games or an average of 4.8 men per game.

Glenn, it is true has the size to his credit, but it only makes him awkward. Huhn, smaller and more agile, can get balls that Glenn couldn't touch with a vaulting pole. We notice Huhn getting balls off the ground and into the "black

Anybody Can Clean Silver This Way

I'm sure—says the LITTLE HOUSEWIFE. There's no "fussing" with dirty, mussy, injurious "pastes" or powders, no rubbing or "real work" of any kind. It's so much quicker, better and more satisfactory, in every way, than any other Method that you'll really enjoy using the

Silver-Clean Pan

This truly wonderful little home labor-saving device is very simple, yet extremely durable in construction. It quickly and thoroughly cleans any silverware of black and tarnish—without defacing, marring or scratching, or removing one particle of silver—and leaves it bright and new. The SILVER-CLEAN PAN is a scientific combination of electro-chemical metals. Hot water, with ordinary baking soda and salt, is placed in the PAN—and the silver merely immersed and left for a few minutes—then taken out and wiped dry, when every trace of tarnish will have been removed—WITHOUT RUBBING OR SCOURING.

Thousands of housewives use the SILVER-CLEAN PAN—and what once was a dreaded task is now a pleasure. Hotels, clubs, restaurants and dining cars also employ the PAN. The household size, No. 1, single, (with full, simple directions). Shipped on free trial, express prepaid, for only $1.35. If not found entirely satisfactory, we will return charges and refund the purchase price. Beware of imitations. None genuine without grid and arrow. Slabs and other forms injure silverware. The "Silver-Clean" does not. Manufactured only by Ramsey-Vance Sales Co., Madison, Wis. For sale in this city by
